SILICOSIS COMPENSATION

Workers who cut, grind, or fit engineered stone kitchen worktops may have been exposed to harmful silica dust.

Inhaling silica dust can cause silicosis, a serious lung disease. If you have worked with engineered stone and suffer from chest pain, breathlessness, a persistent cough, or other lung problems, seek medical advice and inform your doctor about possible silica dust exposure.

You may be entitled to compensation.

TIME LIMITS APPLY - OPEN THIS WEEKEND 10am-5pm - FREEPHONE:
